

“GO Green” Tree by EO Johnson at Festival of Trees

EO Johnson Office Technologies is proud to contribute a “Go Green” themed Christmas tree at Festival of Trees, Asprius Comfort Care and Hospice Services’ annual benefit event. EO Johnson has applied an eco friendly philosophy to their tree and decorated with recycled ornaments. “In business we do everything we can to be environmentally conscious, and we want to carry that into our personal lives too, even at Christmas,” said Mary Jo Johnson, CEO – EO Johnson Office Technologies. “With a little ingenuity, our decorators created ornaments by recycling materials and discovered sources to purchase recycled ornaments.”

EO Johnson creations include ornaments made from circuit boards, small fans made from old Christmas cards, and garland made from gold painted packing peanuts. Topping the tree is a tree topper made of old 45 records, a paper towel tube, and felt. Purchased recyclable ornaments are made from a variety of materials including recycled glass, doll faces, bottle tops, and aluminum cans.

Pictured above are EO Johnson tree decorators Patti Diers (left) and Sandy Schmidt (right) Both work in EO Johnson’s Customer Care Center in Wausau.

economize. optimize.™